Centre-halves Call the Shots 31st May 2010

A great turnout at this year's end of season presentation, the weather held out, and the food from chef Baran was delicious.

Rob Goodwin was named players' player of the year, joining the hall of fame amongst such legends as Alex Harvey and Patrick McArdle. Kevin Gray, recipient of third placed players' player, also recieved a special award to acknowledge his excellent appearance record, playing all but 20 minutes of the season. The manager's player of the year award went to Aaron Mitchard, with several man of the match performances throughout the season.

The centre-half duo of Dave and Kev, who always take full advantage of such team building opportunities, wowed team-mates with their drinking skills, which included an unprecedented tactic of downing the Jagermeister and vodka straight from the bottles.
